In her book Stillwater, Alice Starmore writes that "the best method of drying sweaters is on a wooly board" and that she considers it "an essential sweater-care item".. A Wooly Board (sometimes called "Woolly Board") is the perfect tool to dry wet wool sweaters quickly and this version is the most solidly constructed and beautifully finished version we have ever come across.

Angora hair or Angora fibre refers to the downy coat produced by the Angora rabbit. While the names of the source animals are similar, Angora fibre is distinct from mohair, which comes from the Angora goat. Angora fibre is also distinct from cashmere, which comes from the cashmere goat. Angora is known for its softness, thin fibres, and what knitters refer to as a halo (fluffiness).
