Watched the Miseducation of Cameron Post. It's a wonderful movie and the performances, soundtrack, story is great! I almost think it would've worked better as a mini series though, because one of my favorite parts of the book was getting to know Cameron, discovering her sexuality, her life, her dreams, and I think that's lost in the movie since they didn't have time I assume and since ...

Medora is an in-depth, deeply personal look at small-town life, a thrilling, underdog basketball story, and an inspiring tale of a community refusing to give up hope despite the brutal odds stacked against them. On a grander scale, it's a film about America, and the thousands of small towns across the country facing the same fight. As one towns-person told us, "Once we lose these small ...

Sidi Larbi Cherkaoui and Damien Jalet joined forces with visual artist Antony Gormley to create Babel (words), a dance performance that explores language and its relationship with nationhood, identity and religion. Taking the tale of 'The Tower of Babel' as its starting point, Gormley's 5 huge 3-dimensional frames hint at a nameless intersection in a faceless city near the borders that define a ...
