In 1802, President Thomas Jefferson wrote a friend: "If we can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people, under the pretense of taking care of them, they must become happy." That emblemizes San Francisco's most wasteful (and unhappy) current transportation project, the Municipal Railway's Central Subway Project, now 10 years in length.

Place Matters. One of the greatest stories of reforming a troubled big Department is the story of the turn around of the Maryland Department of Human Resources - the Department responsible not only for Social Services, Welfare to Work, but also the Department primarily responsible for the protection of our most vulnerable children who are being raised in some of our most fragile family settings.
