The "four causes" are elements of an influential principle in Aristotelian thought whereby explanations of change or movement are classified into four fundamental types of answer to the question "why?". Aristotle wrote that "we do not have knowledge of a thing until we have grasped its why, that is to say, its cause." While there are cases where identifying a "cause" is difficult, or in which ...

Comparison with mass. Matter should not be confused with mass, as the two are not the same in modern physics. Matter is a general term describing any 'physical substance'. By contrast, mass is not a substance but rather a quantitative property of matter and other substances or systems; various types of mass are defined within physics – including but not limited to rest mass, inertial mass ...

Groups are absolutely essential to the health and mission of the Church. They are the starting point for community, discipleship, and service in your church. In fact, recent research shows that people involved in groups appear to be more spiritually healthy than those who aren't. People in groups read the Bible more, pray more, give more, and serve more.
