Giant skeletons of an unidentified human race have been excavated around the world, lending credence to the strange stories of Nephilim in ancient texts. According to the book of Genesis, Nephilim were beings present on the earth during the time when the "sons of God" mingled with the "daughters of men." It says they were "the heroes of old, men of renown."

As a student of the scriptures and as a former judge, I have had a special interest in the many scriptures that refer to judging. The best known of these is "Judge not, that ye be not judged" (3 Ne. 14:1; Matt. 7:1). I have been puzzled that some scriptures command us not to judge and others instruct us that we should judge and even tell us how to do it.
