There are a great many paintings and statues of Moses and events of the exodus which are available -- to many for me to link to here. However, I've focused on the work of James J. Tissot (French painter and illustrator, 1836-1902), who painted a series of watercolors that cover the life of Moses, 1896-1900. Most are available are owned by the Jewish Museum of New York.

The Black Inventor Online Museum [™], is a look at the great and often unrecognized pioneers in the field of invention and innovation.. Achievements by Black inventors can be seen as far back as ancient Africa but much of society has no idea that many of the products or devices that make their everyday lives more enjoyable are the result of the hard work and ingenuity of Blacks.

Moses' story is told in the Book of Exodus, but it starts in Genesis with the story of Abraham and his family with whom God makes a covenant. Generations later the Biblical Moses draws the extended family together in the form of a nation with a structure and code of law, given to him on Mount Sinai. Below, Peter Machinist explores the story of Moses, the Exodus hero, in "The Man Moses."
