We live in a world of alternate universes. We may say we live in the present, but in reality the way our brains think traps us in the past. We've been so conditioned by society to predict our own futures (career, love, life in general) that the only concrete evidence we can use to judge what is yet to come is what has already happened.

History. The term "police brutality" was in use in the American press as early as 1872, when the Chicago Tribune reported on the beating of a civilian under arrest at the Harrison Street Police Station.. The origin of 'modern' policing based on the authority of the nation state is commonly traced back to developments in seventeenth and 18th century France, with modern police departments being ...

Upanishads . Arthur Schopenhauer (1788-1860), German philosopher and writer, wrote about the Upanishads: "From every sentence (of the Upanishads) deep, original and sublime thoughts arise, and the whole is pervaded by a high and holy and earnest spirit...."In the whole world there is no study so beneficial and so elevating as that of the Upanishads.
