Toys is the 25th stand-alone novel by James Patterson and is co-written with Neil McMahon. It is set in 2061, in a dystopic world ruled by genetically engineered super-humans known as the Elite, at a time when ordinary humans are regarded as dirty, barbaric, evil and hopeless. In this world, toys (rather than religion) are the opiate of the masses.

It's been a while since I've written a book review, but I just had to start with this one. I recently finished reading Toys by James Patterson and Neil McMahon and let me tell you straight up, this book is a far cry from Patterson's best work. In fact, I think it would be safe to say that it's the worst book with his name on it that I've ever read.
