The Last Husband Forever Love

I wrote this after I got a phone call from my husband who is serving time in a state prison. He sometimes feels so insecure and thinks I am not waiting for him, but I will wait for him until the end of time; he is my life.

Love Forever Poem To Husband In Prison, My Dearest Love

How do you know when your husband has done something that's the last straw in marriage? Yesterday I told you the story of the Heather, who had done everything for the family, cleaning up after them, pouring out her life for them-until a car accident meant that she shouldn't move. Her husband didn't act like anything had changed, though, and still expected her to make dinner.

This was written for Gianna, the love of my life. When I say I love you, please believe it's true. When I say forever, know I'll never leave you. When I say goodbye, promise me you won't cry, Because the day I'll be saying that will be the day I die.

Poem About Loving Someone Forever, True Love

It seems as if the beginning and ending of prepping is stockpiling food. I say that because that's how almost all of us start out and it's something we keep on doing, even after most of our preps are done. With no sure idea of how long we're going to have to survive off of our stockpile, it ...
